The demand for cheap bicycles still continues, and the bicycle firms who have been overstocked are now unloading their wheels at cut prices very rapidly. Experienced riders affirm that the great demand for wheels is causing some firms to turn out weak and defective bicycles, the question being one of quantity rather than quality this year. A member of a Brooklyn bicycle club, in speaking of the demand for and sale of cheap bicycles, says:

"The rush for new bicycles experienced during the greater part of the season has compelled many purchasers to seek wheels among the smaller and new makers. Some of the latter are not above making a little extra profit when possible, the consequence being that some portion of their work must of necessity be scamped. As an example, I met a young rider a few evenings agoriding over one of the suburban roads in New Jersey. His macaine was practically a new one, not having been ridden over twenty miles, apparantly, and in addition was a wheel that at the start of the season retailed at $100. The rider was going over a good roadway, when without any warning the front wheel buckled, with the result that the rider had a very bad fall. An examination proved that the rim was very faulty in matterial and construction. On Emplays and holicays, when riders are out on rons, you will find broken wheels in all sections. Poor material and hurried workmanship combine to put the cheap grade beycles in a condition that they will attain just about several weeks' ordinary riding, then the defective and weak parts give way. There are a number of really first-class medium price bicycles on the market to-day."

RACING IN MUD AND RAIN.

A VERY SMALL CROWD AT SHEEPS. HEAD BAY YESTERDAY.

Requital and George Kessler Achieve Bloodless Victories-Margrave and Ru-bleon Have a Hair-raising Finish-Leh. man, Nina Louise, and Jefferson Win. There was only a sprinkling of enthusiasts at Sheepshead Bay yesterday afternoon, the storm keeping all but Simon-pure followers of racing at home. The stake features, the Daisy, for two-year-olds at five furlongs over the turf course, and the Swift, for three-year-olds at seven furlongs on the main track, were won respectively by Matthew Byrnes's George Kessler and the Brookdale Stable's Requital. Neither had to be extended in order to win, but the winner of last year's Futurity ran the first half mile through the mud in 50 1-5 seconds with his weight up in such incomparable style that he would start favorite to-morrow against any three-year-old in America. It was Requital's first race this year and there was much curiosity to see him. He has grown and developed into a splendid big horse, and if not as smoothly made from the saddle back as some would have him, he is built for speed and carries himself like a champion. There was no betting against him, as he had but the Western colt Oracle and the local candidate Palmerston to beat. It was an even thing between Oracle and l'almeraton as far as the speculation was concerned. Oracle sprang away in front, but Requital marched up to him, passed him in forlong, and threw the mud in his face Palmerston was soon left behind, and Requital galloped home under a double pull. Oracle beat Palmerston as he pleased for second money.

"Cover him up and take him home," said Trainer Rowe, who did not want to see his pet stand about in the cold rain. There is a probability that Requital will get another race or two before he goes to the pest for the Realization Stakes on Saturday, July 11. It is a pity be is not eligible for the Tidal at a mile, which will be run on Tuesday next, and for which it is expected both Handspring and Hastings will go to

There was such a strong tip out on Golden Dream that there was as good as 1 to 2 on offered against George Kessler for the Daisy Stakes. Kessler won the Great American Stakes, but a smart delegation backed the Blemton filly to take him into camp at even weights. William Astor Chanler's Fratelio was the third starter. Fratello led to the upper turn, where he bolted to the outer rail, and Doggett pulled him up. In the stretch George Kessler drew away from Golden Dream and won as he pleased in the slow time of 1:05. The pace for the first quarter was very slow. Kessler improves with

The first race, a dash at five and a half furlongs for three-year-olds and upward, was the best of the day. Margrave was favorite at an average price of even money, with Agitator second choice at 9 to 5. A strong play devel-oped on Kubicon, and the chestnut horse receded several points. Rubicon, ridden by Tod Sloane, was the quickest to begin, and he set such a merry pace that all but Margrave were beaten in the first hundred yards. The big chestnut ran the first furlong over the muddy rack in 1116 seconds, the quarter in 23 seconds, and the three furiongs in 35 seconds. At the head of the stretch Griffin began riding Margrave, moving upon the outside with the three

Straight Heats at Saugus

Savors, June 24 - The second day of the three days meet at Franklin Park, Sangus, produced some good sport. The track was in fine condition, but the weather was threatening. In the first event, the 2:15 trot, Benton M. was a strong favorite. The 2:14 pacing was between Crafty and Kentucky Star, the community seven algebra for the lower places. In the 2:40 trotting class it was nothing but Page. Summaries:

Herman Ocirichs of the Executive Committee of the West Chester Polo Club, and all playing will be done there this summer. The feeling of some that the turf was so soft as to make playing upon it dangerous was dissipated to-day, when the entire ground, its grass lawing been as closely cut as possible, was gone over and found as firm as could be desired. The field is thought to be the finest in the country for polo.

A Finish Fight in Harlem. A slashing skin-tight glove fight was pulled off esterday afternoon in a resort not far from the Harlem Bridge. Although the incentive was a lit tie less than $100 the principals, who were mers novices with the gloves, but notwithstanding elever, fought as if their very lives depended upon the result. About twenty five sports attended the mill, which was between Joe Roberts, colored, and Jim Furney of Ireland, Each lad weighed stripped at the ring side 11416 pounds. They were to fight at 115 pounds. Paddy Rich of the Clipper A. C. at the ring side 1144g pounds. They were to fight at 115 pounds. Paddy fitch of the Clipper A. C. was referee.

No damage was done in the first round, but in the second flurrey smeshed hoberts over the eye, inflicting a deep gast. For pair fought like the most in the third round. Intrincy was all but out and bleeding profusely, Robertsk left eye was nearly closed, and his gameness alone saved him. The twan tood the mark for the fourth round apparently much refreshed and easer to settle matters, furney knocked hoberts down with a joir on the law. The colored man was dean this geometry with his right on the vincrable point when he arose and went him off his pins. The lads diffult do any more fabilities until the twelfth round, when flurney knocked hoberts down with an apper cut. When the latter got up he was sont to the floor again. Time saved him, in the next and last round Roberts forced the flying and anywes the white hey down with his right, hurney still had a good punch down with his right, hurney still had a good punch in him, and drawing his man, or sent his left on the law and put hoberts to steep, both lads were badly punished.

THE EL HEIRIE A WINNER.

SHE CAPTURES THE THIRD HALF. RATER TRIAL RACE. As the Ideal and Riverside Have also

Wos. the Committee Cannot Decide, So There Will Be Another Race To-morrow. It was amateur designers' day at Oyster Bay yesterday, where the Race Committee of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club are vainly trying to select a cup defender for its small boat trophy. The third trial race of the halfraters resulted in a victory for the El Heiric, designed, owned, and salled by young C. H. Crane of this city. This result, while not looked for, was not entirely unexpected, as in her maiden race at Larchmont last Saturday she defeated the Ideal, the winner of the first trial race. Not only this, but she finished close up with the lenders in the two previous trial races, being third in both.

It was to have been the finel trial race yesterday, but, in view of the fact that the Ideal had won the first race in a light breeze, the Riverside capturing the second in a faint and fluk; air, and the El Heirie first in the third in by far the best breeze of the lot, the committee were at their wits' ends to know what to do. After holding a short consultation, they very wisely refused to pick a winner, and ordered the above named trio, together with Paul Butler's Vesper and C. Sherman Hoyt's Paprika, to race again o-morrow over a two-mile windward or leeward course, sailed over thrice.

As a matter of fact it was simply impossible

As a matter of fact it was simply impossible for the committee to have done anything else, for not only do they wish to select the fastest boat, but they also have to deal with the question of handling. The way the Ethelwynn was mismanaged last year showed conclusively that there was little or no use in selecting the fastest boat if it was poorly sailed, and that it would be far better to take a slightly inferior boat, provided she had a skilful skipper. As a matter of fact all of the boats selected by the committee have been unusually well sailed, and their Corinthian skippers have covered themselves with glory by the splendid manner in which they have sailed their boats.

Taking the entire three races and the order in which they sachts finished the Riverside seems to have the best record on points, with the El Heirie a close second. A summary of the points scored by the leading boats follows, the smallest number ranking first: est number ranking first:

*Not timed; w. withdrawn.

This table, while apparently showing the Riverside to be the best all-around boat, is by no means conclusive, as the Paprika, which stands rather low on the list, outsailed all of these boats on one leg of the course yesterday. Herewith will be found the exact time it took each of the five selected boats to cover each leg of the course, and the following figures show where each yacht gained or lost ground:

	FIRST HOUND. Elapsed Time.
The second second	Root. fet Leg.	7d Leg. M. K. 20 47 92 20 23 51 24 44 25 16	3d Leg B. M. 1 0 59 0 1 00 2 0 57 0 1 07 5 1 04 4
	BECOND HOUND. 22 02	30 20 24 35 80 20	0 35 1 0 86 1 0 86 6 0 89 5

The above table shows at a glance what a difficult task the committee have before them, as it would not do for them to select either a light or a heavy weather boat, for what they are looking for is the best all-around boat in all sorts of weather, and yachtsmen following out this line of argument to its logical conclusion think that the final choice of the committee will be either the Riverside or El Heirie, which thus far have done remarkably even work under all sorts of winds and conditions.

While there was by far the strongest wind resterday that the little racers have yet encountered in these trisis, there was a nasty rain storm all day which, made it extremely uncomfortable for the yachtsmen and spectators alike.

storm all day which, made it extremely uncomfortable for the yachtsmen and spectators alike.

There was a nice satting breeze from the south-southwest, and the tide was running ebb when the preparatory signal sounded on the committee steamer Danderberg at 12:50 yesterday afternoon. The rain was coming down in torrents, but the smbitious Corinthian skinpers of the little racers, wrapped up in oilskins and with their sea boots on, did not seem to mind it at all. In fact, they seemed to rather enjoy it. All hugged close to the line with spinnakers ready to hoist at a moment's netice, as the course was a triangular one, two miles to a leg, the same as on Monday.

Herman Duryea, who was salling the Ideal, apparently was determined that there should be no repetition of Thesday's flasto, as he was right on the line when the starting whistle sounded and was over first, an instant after the signal. The others, which were aimost in a line, crossed a few seconds later in the following order: line, cross-

Riverside, Trilby, Hope, Terrapin, El Helrie, In It, Paprika, Cyclone, Saghaya, Tornado, Yola, Die Hexe, Question, Vesier, and Willada, the withdrawals being Two Step, Kittle V., Gnome, Columbia, Maudeen, and leabell.

Spinnakers instantly blossomed out to starboard and the little racers, all in a bunch, flew toward the first mark, two miles away, like a flock of ducks. It was one of the closest and nock of ducks. It was one of the closest and prettiest starts ever seen on the Sound, less than fifteen seconds elansing between the time the ideal crossed and the last boat was over the line. There was little to describe in the run down the wind, except that the Riverside quickly drew aliesd. The wind nauled a little more to the south and, and spinnakers were quickly taken in. The leaders gybed around the first mark and were timed as follows: Hyeridae, 1.01:02; El Hurie, 1.01:52; Trilby, 1.02:03; Die Hoxe, 1.02:04; Vesper, 1.02:10; Paprika, 1.02:05; Cyclone, 1.02:48; Vosa 1.02:48; Ideal, 1.02:08; In It, 1.02:58; Wilde, 1.03:24; Saghar, 1.04:28; Question, 1.04:35; Tornado, 1.04:10; Terrapin, 1.05:16.

It was a reach now on the port tack, and the committee, whose task of selecting a defender is none too casy at the best, rubbed their eyes when the El Heirle rushed by the Riverside at 1:15:00 as though the latter was anchored. The leaders infled around the mark in the following order:

The leaders luffed around the mark in the following order:

El Heirie. 1:22:30; Riveralde. 1:23:27; Die Hexe. 1:25:03; Triliv. 1:25:58; Ideal. 1:28:14; Paprika. 1:26:25; Valla. 1:26:35; Ideal. 1:26:35; Ideal. 1:26:36; Ideal. 2:26:36; Idea Paprika 2:23-21; Riverside 2:23:52; Hope 2:25:23; Trilly 2:28:22; Ideal, 2:33:00; Vesper, 2:35:00; Die Hexe, 2:37:00;

Hexe, 2:17:00.

Hooms were eased off to port for the run to the first mark again, but spinnakers, owing to the slight change in wind, were not set.

As the leaders gybed around this mark young C. Sherman Hoyt, the owner of the Paprika, slipped on her wet deck and foll overboard. He was on board again in an instant, for Leff Huntington grabbed him as he struck the water, and he was on her deck again before he knew what had happened. The leaders' times at this mark were:

It was a run to the next mark with spin-nakers set, and the yachts were timed as fol-lows: 11 Heirle, 3:14:65; Riverside, 3:16:55; Paprika 3:29:05; Hope, 3:21:03; Triby, 8:25:49; Vcsper, The wind had handed a little more to the south and new, and instead of a heat, as in the previous round, the yachts had a close reach to the finish on the port tack, where they were timed as follows:

BUMMARY: A number of the yachts finished so late on Tuesday that their times were not announced until yesterday. Their record follows:

The directors met last night to consider this matter and also a charge of malsider this matter and also a charge of mal-feasance made by them against John D. Elwell, who opened a letter by mistake received at his office intended for the club.

Mr. Elwell refused to appear before the Di-rectors, as he did not wish to endanger his legal rights against the club in a suit for libel and damages. At the meeting were Wesley Bige-low, Chauncey H. Hatheway, Gustave Simon-son, Ellert W. Dahl, A. Foster Higgins, and others. After a long session the directors re-fused to tell what action had been taken, except to say that Pilisbury's resignation had been accepted.

Philadelphia Cricketers in England. LIVERPOOL, June 24.—The team of cricketers of Haverford College arrived here to-day on board of the steamer Belgenland, which sailed from Philadelphia on June 13. The boys all expressed themselves as feeling in good trim after the voyage, but they were anxious to get some practice after their enforced rest. An invitation has been received from the authorities of Owen's College, Manchester, who have placed their ground at the disposal of the visitors, and a few days' needed practice will be had here before going on with the more important work of the hour.

The schedule of games calls for the first match being played at Chejtenham on Monday, but an invitation has been received from Shrewsbury School for a game there on Saturday, and if the boys can get into form with a couple of days' practice, they will take the game on.

The Americans are thought here to have undertaken a huge task in tackling such famous institutions as Eton, Harrow, and the other big schools, which turn out annually the finest crickelers in the world.
